

What Are They Saying?

Look at the picture below. What do you think they might be saying? Fill in the balloons with your own response. You will need a caption for Charles Lindbergh and one for Mary Pickford. Your response can be serious or humorous. Have fun!

July 8, 1929 – A big day at the Grand Central Air Terminal!

Special celebration of the first coast-to-coast passenger flight, piloted by Charles Lindbergh, leaves the airport. In the photo above are, left to right: Captain C.C. Spicer, general manager of the Grand Central Air Terminal; Charles Lindbergh, pilot; City of Los Angeles Mayor John C. Porter; City of Glendale Mayor C.E. Kimlin; Congressman W.E. Evans; Douglas Fairbanks, actor; Mary Pickford, actress; and California's Governor C.C. Young.

If there is not enough room in the balloons, then write your quote for Charles Lindbergh here:

Enter your quote for Mary Pickford here: